AUDREY ANASTASI

A curator, gallery owner/director, educator and arts advocate, Audrey Frank Anastasi is, above all else, a tireless and dedicated working artist. She has an extensive history of exhibiting her artwork in the United States and abroad. Born in Baltimore, Maryland, and raised in south Florida from the age of twelve, Ms. Anastasi attended the University of Miami, where she graduated Magna cum Laude. Audrey moved to Brooklyn, New York, to attend Pratt Institute, and earned her Master's Degree in Fine Arts. From 1985 until 1994, she taught figure drawing, portfolio development, and anatomy for artists at Parsons School of Design.

*“When I started painting The Stations of the Cross series, I had a deep sense of the gravity of the subject, the saddest journey to sacrifice and redemption. For me, whether one believes in a literal or symbolic interpretation, this is a moving and inspiring story of profound dignity, in the face of injustice, and horrific cruelty. I did not want to paint a detached illustration of the events, but rather a suite of images that would touch deep emotions.”*
